

2023 PRESIDENT'S ANNUAL REPORT

Greetings, Pensacola State family and friends.

In 2023, the College celebrated a historic milestone – its 75th anniversary.

Pensacola State College opened in 1948 with 136 students in a downtown Pensacola boarding house. Today, PSC has seven locations – Pensacola, Milton and Warrington campuses, the Century Center, Downtown Center, South Santa Rosa Center and the Santa Rosa Industrial Park East.

Over 123,500 students have become Pensacola State alumni – earning associate and bachelor degrees and workforce certificates from the College. Currently, over 21,400 students are enrolled in classes.

The College has aligned with ST Engineering, the City of Pensacola, FloridaWest Economic Development Alliance, Santa Rosa (County) Economic Development, and Triumph Gulf Coast to operate an Aviation Maintenance Training Academy to train skilled workers in airframe power plant mechanics for the region's developing aviation industry.

PSC was also awarded a $2.5 million Community Development Block Grant to bolster building trades training and employment in Hurricane Sally-impacted communities.

During the historic 75th anniversary year, the College opened the state-of-the-art Bear Jones Moore Reeves Center for Math and Advanced Technology. Located on the Pensacola campus, the center is the second phase of replacing the Baars Building (the first structure built in 1957 on the Ninth Avenue campus).

The Joe Ambersley and Pete Peña basketball court was unveiled on Oct. 12. The name honors Coach Peña, PSC's basketball coach for the past 15 years, and his longtime friend and PSC Athletics supporter, Joe Ambersley.

Other highlights of the President's Report include the Lady Pirates Volleyball Team's spectacular season. The team finished fourth at the NJCAA Division II Women's Volleyball National Tournament in Cedar Rapids, Iowa. This was the program's first time making it to The Final Four at Nationals.

As in previous years, U.S. News and World Report ranked the online Bachelor of Science in Nursing Program No. 3 in Florida and 74th in the U.S.

For the 14th consecutive year, PSC was named a 2023 Military Friendly® School by Viqtory Media. PSC also earned the "Gold" designation for the second year.

The College was chosen as one of eight Bellwether Legacy Award finalists to compete for the 2024 Legacy Award. In 2017, Pensacola State's Virtual Tutoring Program won the national Bellwether Award – beating out more than 2,500 applicants.

PSC remains committed to student success by offering small classes, exemplary faculty, and a quality postsecondary education ranked nationally in the Top 1 percent for affordability.

The College's donors, friends and supporters for the past 75 years have and continue to make a tremendous difference in the lives of thousands upon thousands of our students.

PSC Cuts Ribbon on Bear Jones Moore Reeves Center

It was a day of celebration as the ceremonial ribbon was cut on Oct. 30 on Pensacola State College's new Bear Jones Moore Reeves Center for Math and Advanced Technology.

The Bear Jones Moore Reeves Center for Math and Advanced Technology will provide state-of-the-art instructional space for our math department and enable us to expand our advanced technology and cybersecurity programs. Our cybersecurity programs are among our most rapidly growing degrees.

The first classes were held in the new 59,080-square-foot facility in January 2024.

Construction on the $22.5 million facility started in June 2022. The building is Phase II of the College's STEM complex. Phase I — the Baars Technology Building — opened in 2021.

The center's name pays homage to the Bear Family Foundation, the late Bill and Jo Jones, the Pete Moore Family and James "Jim" Reeves. The group collectively donated $1 million to the College to fund STEM-related scholarships.

The Bear Jones Moore Reeves Center has eight classrooms/lecture halls, four computer labs, one emerging technologies lab, one prototyping area, 19 faculty offices, and a department head suite complete with individual offices for the department head and assistant department head.

A 2,735-square-foot rooftop venue is also part of the center, along with a third-floor connector linking the Phase I and Phase II buildings.

Several Northwest Florida dignitaries were on hand for the ribbon cutting, including Hal George, who represented State Sen. Doug Broxson; David Bear, chairman of the Triumph Gulf Coast Board of Directors; Pensacola Mayor D.C. Reeves; and Escambia County Commissioners Robert Bender, Jeff Bergosh and Mike Kohler.

Dr. Troy Tippet, PSC Board of Trustees chairman, and some other board members were on hand for the event. Representing the scholarship donors were Bear family members; the late Pete Moore's widow and daughter, Angela Moore and Jacqueline Moore Pommerening; (Jim) Reeves; and Kay Margedant and Jay Margedant, the sister and nephew of the late Bill Jones.

Along with $18.9 million in state funding, a $11,998,919 Triumph Gulf Coast grant was used to fund the construction of the Bear Jones Moore Reeves Center for Math and Advanced Technology. Triumph Gulf Coast is the organization charged by the state of Florida with distributing the $1.5 billion settlement from BP stemming from the 2010 oil spill.

Florida Architects designed the Phase I and Phase II buildings. Ajax Corp was the Phase I general contractor. The Morette Company is the Phase II general contractor.

The Dr. Marie M. Diamond EMT and Paramedic Classroom was dedicated in January. Room 3702, in Building 3700 on the Warrington campus. It was named to honor Joe Diamond's mother — Marie M. Diamond.

in Diamond's honor at the request of the First Responders Luncheon Committee, which raised more than $47,000 to establish the First Responders Scholarship at the College. The scholarship is awarded to Joe Diamond used to teach in the room. Diamond — the program director for Pensacola State College from 1980 to 2009 — instructed his mother in Room 3702.

Marie Diamond earned her EMT certification when she was in her 50s and her Doctor of Education degree at age 77 after finishing a 30-year career as an Escambia County School District teacher.

PSC named the classroom

students in programs of study that align with the expertise needed by emergency responders, especially emergency medical services.

Student Activities Game Room

July 19 was a day of celebration for new and old-school gamers at Pensacola State College. The College's Student Activities Game Room was officially opened in the Delaino Student Center on the Pensacola campus.

The game room is outfitted with two air hockey tables, a pool table, a ping pong table, a foosball table, and five arcade games.

Longtime PSC supporters John and Susan O'Connor donated the regulation-sized pool table decorated with the College's logo.

PSC State Board of Trustee member Gordon "Flash"

Sprague and his wife, Bette, gifted the College a vintage Pin Bot arcade game and one of the air hockey tables.

The Student Activities Game

Room was the latest in upgrades to the Student Center, which went through a total renovation in 2022.

Plans include adding more arcade games, PlayStation 5 and Xbox Series X video games and an 85-inch television screen.

International Festival Featured Cultural Showcase of Food, Music, Dance

The Pensacola State College inaugural International Festival held April 15 began with a parade of global flags and vendors selling everything from shea butter to educational toys.

A constant stream of entertainers, including headliner Larry Watson, performed from the main stage while festivalgoers listened and danced on the grounds.

Crowds flocked to the Pensacola campus, where a buffet of food trucks served delicacies from around the world — Filipino food, Cajun food, Asian food, Italian food and more.

Little kids danced jigs to the music of McGuire's Irish Pub Bagpipe Band and kept rhythm with joyous Italian dancers. A separate area was set aside for the Children's Village, with attractions ranging from Reno's Reptiles and the Emerald Coast Wildlife Refuge to PSC Kids College art stations.

The brainchild of PSC supporter Dr. Marjan Mazza, the festival was co-chaired by the PSC Humanities and Social Sciences Assistant Department Head Kathy Van Dyck and PSC Director of Staff and Professional Development Juanita Scott.

Lumberjack Fest Brings Crowd to Milton Campus

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Highlights

The PSC Alumni Association held its Spring Annual Quail Hunt and Fall Annual Quail Hunt and Pheasant Shoot at Dennis Lake Wing Club in Bay Minette, Alabama. New and returning faces supported each event. The Alumni Association has hosted the two fundraisers for over 10 years to help generate money for the Alumni Association Program. The funds are the source for the alumni's matching program to establish endowed scholarships.

The PSC Alumni Association also held its Annual Fishing Excursions, which benefitted the Delta Kappa Alpha Fraternity Scholarship Fund. Guests had a wonderful experience with Dufour's Fishing Charters. Located in Marrero, just outside of New Orleans, Dufour's guests enjoy fishing during the day and relaxing by the water in the evenings. The camaraderie, fellowship, and epic crawfish boil keep guests returning each year to enjoy the weekend on the bayou.

A Service of Pensacola State College

A Public Broadcasting Service member station licensed to Pensacola State College, WSRE PBS serves more than 588,000 households in the Mobile-Pensacola (Fort Walton) media market with multi-platform distribution of local productions, PBS programming and the No. 1 educational media brand for children.

The station broadcasts five channels: WSRE PBS, PBS KIDS, Create, WORLD and — new this year — WSRE PBS Connect. The Connect channel is now home to The Florida Channel broadcast, PSC Pirates sports, and past episodes of local productions.

Local programs produced by WSRE PBS in 2023 included new episodes of “Connecting the Community,” “Conversations with Jeff Weeks,” “inStudio,” “Pensacola State Today,” and the station’s long-running music series, “StudioAmped.”

In addition to scheduled broadcasts, viewers have anytime access to the station’s programming at PBS.org, WSRE.org, and on the free PBS and PBS KIDS apps, watching on demand and via livestream from mobile devices and popular digital services. Additionally, hundreds of free educational games are available to local families on the free PBS KIDS Games app, and local teachers use PBS LearningMedia for free access to standards-aligned classroom resources.

WSRE PBS also engages with communities across the coverage area through educational activities and dedicated events that provide opportunities for civic engagement, enlightening conversation and exposure to the arts.

‘The U.S. and the Holocaust’ Teacher Training

WSRE PBS contracted with the Holocaust Memorial Resource and Education Center of Florida for education curator Stephen Poynor to lead two professional development workshops Jan. 21 and Aug. 4 on Holocaust education for local teachers.

A webinar was held in January, and the station hosted Escambia County Public School’s summer workshop for middle school and high school history teachers in August. Both workshops introduced PBS LearningMedia classroom resources from Ken Burns’ “The U.S. and the Holocaust” documentary series, and the museum presented traveling teaching trunks full of Holocaust memorabilia for use in local schools.

Amazing Kids Day

Close to 300 people took part in the inaugural Amazing Kids Day at WSRE PBS on April 1 and Sept. 30 for families with young children living with autism. Activities included the Pensacola Symphony Orchestra’s “petting zoo,” a Canine Companions meet and greet, The Arc Gateway sensory room, PBS KIDS show clips on the Amos Studio big screen, green screen fun and PBS KIDS computer stations. A second Amazing Kids Day for families in Okaloosa County was hosted in partnership with the Fort Walton Beach Public Library in September.

Be My Neighbor Day

On April 29, local families flocked to the station for Be My Neighbor Day, a free, family-fun event focused on early learning, health and safety resources, and the neighborly values of Mister Rogers and “Daniel Tiger’s Neighborhood.” More than 40 community partners gathered to offer children’s activities and information about community resources available to families with young children. Estimated attendance was 2,000.

PSC Spanish Film Festival

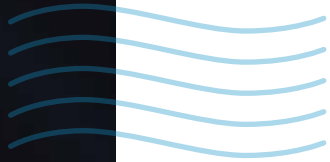

As part of the Pensacola State College International Festival held April 15, WSRE PBS hosted the free PSC Spanish Film Festival — matinee screenings of five films from the Pragda Spanish Film Club series — in the Jean and Paul Amos Performance Studio. The PSC Spanish Film Festival was funded in part by a Spanish Film Club (SFC) grant awarded to Pensacola State College.

‘Southern Storytellers’ Screening and Songwriters Round

In advance of the “Southern Storytellers” series premier July 14 on PBS, WSRE PBS hosted a free preview reception, and screening and writers’ round at the Voices of Pensacola Multicultural Center. Following the screening, local poets and artists from the Pensacola Songwriter Rounds Series shared their original poems and music.

‘The Humble Oyster’ Screening and Panel Discussion

The Pensacola and Perdido Bays Estuary Program has told the story of local oysters and ecology through a Mississippi State University Films documentary. WSRE PBS hosted the in-person premiere of “The Humble Oyster” on May 23 with a free screening and panel discussion in the Jean and Paul Amos Performance Studio, presented the film’s broadcast and streaming premiere, and has since become the presenting station for the film, making it available to all PBS stations through the National Educational Telecommunications Association.

‘StudioAmped’ Concert Series

WSRE PBS launched production of the 14th season of its “StudioAmped” music series Oct. 3-6 with three free concerts: Grits & Greens, Paul Vinson, and the Pensacola Beach Songwriters Festival show featuring Nashville songwriters Kathie Baillie, Michael Bonagura and Alyssa Bonagura. “StudioAmped” showcases the original music of regional artists. Donations for Manna Food Pantries were collected at the door.

Pace Center for Girls Songwriting Workshop

As part of the “StudioAmped” tradition, WSRE PBS and the Pensacola Beach Songwriters Festival teamed up to facilitate the third annual songwriting workshop for Pace Center for Girls on Oct. 6. Students from the Pace Center program learned about the art of songwriting from acclaimed Nashville songwriters Anne Buckle and Caitlin Evanson during the workshop held in the PSC Performing Arts building.

Festival of Trees

WSRE PBS held its second Festival of Trees Nov. 24-26 at the Pensacola Museum of Commerce, with more than 1,500 people in attendance over Thanksgiving weekend. Holiday trees and wreaths decorated by individuals and community groups were on display and auctioned off or sold in support of the WSRE-TV Foundation. The elaborately decorated “Whoville’s Heart” Grinch-themed tree by Pensacola’s Krewe of S.W.A.T. won the People’s Choice Award for best tree and raised $1,500 from a group of community-minded donors who, in turn, donated the tree to the Studer Family Children’s Hospital at Ascension Sacred Heart.

Culinary Legends Wine and Food Classic

The 33rd annual WSRE Wine & Food Classic celebrated the iconic chefs and rising culinary stars of both PBS and the local region Oct. 14 and Oct. 21. Two events were held in support of the WSRE-TV Foundation: A Legendary Dinner (gala) in the station’s Jean and Paul Amos Performance Studio and the event’s marquee Walkabout Tasting at the SCI Building in downtown Pensacola. Local philanthropists Jan and Ron Miller were this year’s honorary event chairs.

The winning chefs are Coralin Allen, Cora’s Custom Creations; and tied for People’s Choice were Jennifer Lowry, Conchitas Catering, and Mike Tilton, Legends Café at Andrews Institute for Orthopaedics & Sports Medicine.
